Dear Katie,

Hiya Kate! Now I can't believe that we'll gonna be Juniors next year. We've been friends since we were small kiddos in St. Finus Pueran Camp. - It is true. Well anyway I'm glad you went to St. Pauls and at least have one class together; Religion w/ Mr. Stuffy. This class was sure fun and pleasure. And all those great times we had to walk from the 400 bld. to the 500 bld. just to go to our second pra. class. In fact we actually have three classes together. World History w/ Mr. Infante; Religion w/ Mr. Stuffy baby and Band w/addy - Humbleweed Clark. Remember all those wild cracks about his bald head. Rem. the football season. It was sure terrific having along in those classes. Well I can say in I hope we have more classes together next year; good luck in the future and your crazy driving boy friend. See ya next year.

The Genesis Of Our School

Twenty-five years ago, in 1956, one hundred students attended Santa Fe Catholic High School, located in two classrooms at St. Marianna's de Parades Elementary School in Pico Rivera. In order to avoid confusion with the public high school, Santa Fe, the school's name was changed to St. Paul the next year. In 1958, 325 Freshmen and Sophomores attended school there.

St. Paul High School moved to Greenleaf Avenue in Santa Fe Springs in January 1958. At that time, four classroom building units, the administration building, and the chapel were the only buildings in existence. The science laboratories were finished in the fall of 1958 and in March, 1959, the shower-locker building was completed. The multi-purpose building used as a gym, auditorium, snack bar, kitchen and faculty dining room was finished in September, 1960. The final construction of the '500' building, which added eight more classrooms, was finished in 1964. Due to the annual chocolate sales, Swordsmen Stadium was built and used for the first time at the June, 1965 graduation exercises.

Fr. Moschel, as first principal, had the task of setting up an atmosphere that would encourage students to live their Christian ideals. After eight years of his guidance, St. Paul High's philosophy was firmly established. Fr. Cranham, as next principal, continued to build on the foundation that Fr. Moschel had set. His dedication and hard work did not go unnoticed. Fr. Cranham celebrated his investiture with the St. Paul community on Feb. 10, 1969 when Cardinal McIntyre confirmed upon him the title of Monsignor. Swordsmen Stadium was later renamed Monsignor Cranham Stadium to honor a man who had done so much for St. Paul High in the seven years he was here. The next six years saw Fr. Ryan's influence in St. Paul activities and administrative decisions. He was a man well-liked by all St. Paul family members. After his retirement, Fr. Carroll, who had been the Financial Director at St. Paul for two years, became our next principal. For the past five years, he has stood as a strong leader, appreciated by all students, faculty, and parents.

Led by the insight of our principals, past and present, St. Paul High has been able to preserve its Christian philosophies and provide students with a well-rounded education.

No 500 building? The building unit was not completed until 1964. Until then the light shone on the lunch lines.

SCHOOL CREST

Patron: Saint Paul
 Motto: Christ Lives In Me
 Colors: Navy Blue and White
 Crest: Sword, Shield, Scroll and Laurel Wreath.

The School Crest is made up of certain symbols in order to represent the meaning of St. Paul High School. The sword signifies a commitment to truth regardless of consequences. The shield is a symbol of our faith and knowledge which helps us to greet challenges with courage. The scroll is a symbol of intellectual experience. The wreath is a sign of our unity in Christ over sin and death by our own sharing in His Resurrection, and our ultimate unity with the Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

Mrs. Marie Shaia and Mrs. Lu Sanchez, on the left, were two of the first office secretaries. Mrs. Pat Micek was one of our first librarians, and Mrs. Laura Gillen was another early office worker. They reunited at the Anniversary luncheon.

At the Jubilee Mass luncheon are Mr. Mondaca, Mrs. Hemme, Fr. Ryan, Fr. Carroll, Timothy Cardinal Manning, Fr. Moschel, Sr. Barbara and Mr. Guarino.

ST. PAUL

Saul was born both a Roman citizen and a Jew. In the Jewish tradition, he was educated at home and then sent to Hebrew schools, where he memorized Scripture and learned of Jewish history.

He set out to destroy the Jewish communities who had accepted Jesus. But then Paul was converted to Christianity, and he began his missionary work as an apostle of Christ. He traveled for nearly thirty-five years, setting up Christian communities all over the world. Paul endured great suffering: he was beaten, stoned, scourged, imprisoned, shipwrecked, and finally—in Rome about 67 A.D.—was beheaded.

The Church is also indebted to St. Paul because he was the first great Christian theologian. It is believed he was one of the few religious geniuses the world has ever known. For these reasons, he has rightly been called the greatest of all apostles.

What's So Exciting?

What was so exciting? How many times did you ask yourself that question this year? Many people didn't realize what the excitement was about and some didn't really care. The main reason for all of the celebrating was that this year was the 25th anniversary of St. Paul High's opening. That was a major accomplishment and only comes once in a lifetime. The two major events marking our birthday were the Anniversary Mass offered by Cardinal Manning on September 29th, followed by a luncheon in the gym, and our annual Homecoming game.

If you got tired of hearing about the past 25 years, there were plenty of other things to talk about. Excitement was constantly brewing around school. Dances, rallies, the anxiety over final exams, graduation, Ring Day, winning games, and lunchtime were just a few of the things that made life interesting. Sure, St. Paul's was 25 years old, but how about the thrill of turning 16 and getting your license? Or how about your 18th birthday and "turning legal?"

If you ever ran out of things to be happy about, you should have looked around campus at all the activities and people. The Saint Paul Family is something to celebrate.

That's what was so exciting!

A windy day on the courts seemed too rough for Natalie Rucinski. In order to "protect" her golden locks, she armed herself with a blue bandana.

The diversity of the Varsity cheerleaders is shown as Kathy Kautz and Jean Daly console a troubled Charlotte Medina, while Tricia Palma supports Patty Chavez's claim to world supremacy.

Scott Ogle, Robert Sainz, Jim Mandichak, and Tony Arciniega line up for the start of the ice-blocking race held during Spirit Week. The Juniors, represented by Jim and Toni Garcia came in first.

Fr. Ryan, Fr. Moschel, Deacon Fitzgerald Cardinal Manning, and Fr. Carroll concelebrated the sacrifice of the Mass. Joining them were priests from surrounding parishes which St. Paul students belong to.

The entire faculty and student body assembled on the football field for the Mass. Parents were also invited to attend. The band and choir gave excellent performances.

Mr. Kubasek is often found captivating the attention of his students. Elaine Daly, Kevin Butler, Katrina Cochran, and Jennifer Ferrara listen attentively during their Sophomore religion class.

Today Begins In The Past

In looking at St. Paul's history, many of its traditions, rules, styles and activities may seem different to us. It is important, however, that we realize that our traditions, rules, and activities were influenced by our predecessors. On a similar note, we have to remember that twenty-five years from now our actions will be looked upon as outdated also. Change is inevitable and necessary if growth is to occur.

One thing hasn't changed! Seems like the phones were just as crowded back then as now. The booths probably got worn out - that is why we have new stands now.

THE WAY IT WAS

- The school was segregated. The girls had classes in the 100 and 200 buildings, while the boys had theirs in the 300 and 400 buildings.
- There was no talking in the halls and students walked in two single file lines.
- Infractions, demerits and detentions existed as forms of punishment.
- Freshmen initiation could consist of reading poetry, eating soda crackers while singing M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E, dancing for seniors and wearing signs expressing their status.
- A student had the same locker for four years.
- The study hall was used for supervised study.
- A student was not allowed on campus after 3:45 without a teacher.

So you think your uniforms are bad now! In the first few years of the school, girls were forced to wear this. Thank God for changes!

Below is an earlier crest of St. Paul High as it appeared on the gym wall. Sammy Swordsman was also painted on the gym wall at one time in St. Paul's history.

Every year the Junior class sponsored a Skance. This was a popular event and involved dancing and skating at Skateland. The money raised helped to finance the Junior-Senior Prom.

How many people know that St. Paul had male yell leaders helping to promote spirit? Yes, guys helped, too!

In 1969, Fr. Cranham became Monsignor Cranham. His investiture by Cardinal McIntyre was performed in the S.P. gym and witnessed by the S.P. family.

IT'S KATIE, NEW SOX WOMAN!! How does it feel? I expect to see ya during the summer so stick around!! well I wish you're if almost here and we will no longer be underclassmen. Great!!

New faculty members enjoy lunch together as they share their everyday experiences.

A major change this year was a longer and more unified lunch period.

During the summer the lockers were painted a beautiful brown, providing a neat and orderly appearance in the hallways.

We Grow Through Change

Many changes were evidenced as students and faculty returned from summer vacation. A major change was the forty-five minute lunch which enabled the entire school to enjoy lunch during fifth period. This caused longer lunch lines and crowds in popular eating areas. To handle the increased crowds at lunch, new trash cans and tables were purchased and another senior quad was established. It was also necessary to shorten the previous twenty minute break by five minutes and lengthen the school day by ten minutes.

Other changes were soon apparent. Lockers, poles and awnings were painted brown; what was the study hall was carpeted, filled with various business machines and is now known as the business lab.

Changes affecting students on a more personal level included new test formats used in conjunction with a scan-tron machine, and increased prices at the snack bar. Students realized the xerox machine was no longer available for their use and soon adjusted to the fact that they would be sent home to change if they did not meet dress code regulations.

These changes, however, are insignificant when the overall picture is viewed. New students and faculty come to St. Paul yearly. How these people influenced our lives is of major importance. Their fresh ideas and high ideals, coupled with the experience and knowledge of those returning, provided encouragement and wisdom in meeting the challenges inevitable with change.

Feelings, attitudes and friendships changed—sometimes for the better, which made us happy, sometimes for the worse, which made us grow.

What was previously known as the study hall is now a very active business lab.

Miss Elaine Whitehead gives useful information to someone on the telephone while trying to update the records on her desk.

We Continued To Grow

Keep your school clean?? Maybe we could use some of these signs around today. St. Paul lettermen Jim Kenney and Dave Perez helped out in the effort. Boy, have times changed!

The first Homecoming celebration was held in 1960. That year the dance was held in the St. Paul gym.

Students were appointed to monitor the halls and enforce school regulations. Regulations included no talking, no going to lockers between classes, and keeping to the right in the halls.

In the early 1960's St. Paul's marching band came into existence. The Lincoln Day Parade in Whittier marked their debut.

Often, we felt our school rules today were prohibiting. The following are some more of these regulations from the past.

- Girls had to wear chapel veils in church but were not allowed to wear eyeshadow, hair pieces, ratted hairdos, or engagement rings.
- All report cards had to be signed by a parent and turned in to the office.
- Students could only go to their lockers before school, during lunch and after school.
- The principal had to be notified of all off campus parties.
- Immediate expulsion occurred if a student was caught using someone else's locker, riding in a car with boys and girls without a car pass, or going steady.
- A certain door had to be used for entering and leaving each class.

Our high school had more than a homecoming queen at one time. A "Snowball" dance was held where a "Snowqueen" was crowned.

Long ago, the name of the school was displayed on the front wall. It later fell victim to vandalism. The uniform was changed to include blazers rather than sweaters.

Remember the Crow's Nest? This St. Paul Landmark was destroyed by trouble-makers three years ago. A field, often used for growing corn, used to be where the Fedco warehouse now stands.

The dance, held on Sunday the 25th, turned out successful. All night, Josie Cota, Michelle Merlino, Brad Radcliff, Miriam Fuentes, and Art Casañas could be seen out on the floor!

Each year, the majorettes spin fire batons at the Homecoming halftime. Joann De La Ossa helped keep the tradition alive on October 23.

Mia Mantini helps Lisa Diaz to look her best. Before halftime, the girls stayed in the faculty lounge where they prepared for the "big moment."

Is Sharon seeing a ghost? Her look of fright is actually an expression of sudden joy as she is crowned St. Paul's 21st queen by last year's queen Kathy Sullivan. Sitting next to her is her father Chester.

A few touch-ups before going "on-stage" seemed to be all Sheila McWeeney needed to make her look as nice as she did that night. Without a doubt, the 1981 court was one of St. Paul's prettiest.

Twenty-Five Years Of Memories

Mix Spirit Week, an exciting pep rally, a thrilling victory over Mater Dei, an after-the-game fight, fire batons, Sammy Swordsmen, the band and performing squads, returning alumni, a horse-drawn carriage, fireworks, a dance at Candlewood Country Club, five pretty girls, and a special vote by Seniors to choose one of them as queen, and what do you get? The obvious answer would be the 1981 Homecoming Celebration.

This year's game proved to be quite an exciting one. The Swordsmen fell behind the Monarchs early in the game, 17-0. The mixture of tension and excitement could be felt throughout the stadium. The fact that they were behind did not seem to trouble the team, as they overcame Mater Dei for a stunning 31-24 victory.

Who could forget the half-time extravaganza? The court arrived on the field in an elegant horse-drawn carriage. Each of the girls, looking their absolute best, was escorted down the aisle by her father. Tension mounted in the stands, everyone waiting with anticipation, to discover who would be crowned queen. At last it became known, as last year's queen, Kathy Sullivan, crowned Sharon Klemens as her successor. The magic of halftime came to an end, all aglow with the cascading color of fireworks.

Homecoming ended with a colorful fireworks spectacular.

Sammy Swordsman made a special appearance with the help of Suzanne Poteete. Could that be why we overcame an early 17 point deficit to beat Mater Dei 31-24?

A Quarter Of The Way

Giving her all for the point is Varsity Volleyball team member Tiffany Miller.

To actually reach a quarter of a century of existence is a great achievement. But we sometimes forget just what it took to get us here. Yes, it took parents, money, teachers, and parishes that cared; but if the students had not taken pride in themselves, then St. Paul's twenty-fifth anniversary might never have come. You may have noticed that lots of old students come back to teach at St. Paul, old sports players come back to coach, old cheerleaders come back to help new squads, and lots of parents come to games and shows even after their children leave the school. Because students give all their activities — social, academic, and extra-curricular — their best effort, we have excelled in all areas of student life. Hence, a tradition of "giving it your all" can be felt every year. That is one reason the school can say it has come "a quarter of the way."

Patti Rossa and Delaney Smith give a brief display of sisterly love.

It isn't strange to see alumni returning to coach. Dave Waszak and Ray Palmer are two who have returned.

25

At the rally during Spirit Week, Tony Ledesma, A.S.B. President, has a chance to explain why he feels the dress code should include a bow tie for the boys.

Varsity team member Gina Trapletti puts all her effort into tapping the ball over the net to the dismay of the other team.

Debbie Truschel and Patti Novak try to get free fruit through trickery at the A.S.B. fruit sale.

Besides coaching football, coach Anich also teaches P.E. classes. Here during Parents Night, he explains the curriculum.

The choir and band were important parts of the Anniversary Mass. Richard Quezada, Linda Rockenbach, Lisa Fink, Pablo Cadena, Lorraine Gonzales, and Tracy Talkinton did their share on this exciting day.

Alex Espinosa, Manuel Juarez, and Ted Lawrence watch intently, remembering the days they played football as Sophomores.

What's caught Lori Barton's eye? Some guy perhaps? Possibly the game against Servite? Whatever it may be, Bernie Terrones offers her helpful advice.

Danny Pogue, Matt Cole, Richard Estrada, Ted Prenovost, Al Aguilera, Scott Ryan, and Steve Kennedy fell victim, as sophomore and freshmen football players do each year, to the Pep Squad's antics at the Servite rally.

After school, strange, and not-so-strange things may be observed. Suzanne Poteete and Lorie Collette converse with a friend suffering from too much homework.

Student Life

To fully capture a student's busy life is truly impossible. There are too many feelings, emotions and people acting in the life of one student. But certain fun times and heartbreaks are shared by all. We didn't all succeed at everything, yet we didn't all fail either. Each of us played a special part in student life at St. Paul's. Possibly it was by showing spirit, supporting the teams, joining a club, keeping up grades, helping someone out, or just by sharing a smile! Every student, in using his unique qualities, helps to make the St. Paul community complete.

CELEBRATING WHO WE ARE

Keeping The Spirit Alive

Jackie McKean shows us her stuff at a home game.

The Pep Squad, consisting of Varsity Cheer, Song, and J.V. Cheer, deserves recognition for all the hard work they put into promoting spirit and unity in the student body at St. Paul. Most people think the Pep Squad helped cheer the Swordsmen on to victory only at games, not realizing that they also planned rallies, made posters, sold ribbons, and organized the annual Girls League Dance. Through the year the Pep Squad also competed in various local and state competitions. For them, the long summer and the after school hours paid off in the achievement of skills and precision.

A Chance To Be Part Of The School

Flagsters, Tall Flags, and the Dance Team were important parts of the Performing Squad. Each team started the year with high expectations and settled for nothing less. Each of them was faced with challenges throughout the year, yet successfully overcame those challenges. Their successes were attributed to their ambition and hard work. When flagster Lisa Diaz was asked why she had wanted to join the squad knowing it would involve hard work and long hours, she said that it would give her an opportunity to show that she was a part of the school. Undoubtedly, all of the performing squads are an integral part of the St. Paul community.

New Team Receives Recognition

The performing squad consists of many teams, three of which are the Majorettes, the Banner girls, and a new addition, the Drill Team. Their dedication and effort, as strong as any other squad, paid off in competition and all school performances.

The Majorettes started the year with one returning member and two newcomers who handled the job excellently. Together, with soloist Penny Garcia, they once again performed outstandingly at Homecoming, with their traditional fire-baton routine.

The Banner girls, in their second year, along with the new Drill Team blended in wonderfully with all the squads due to their dedication and excellent performances. Congratulations to our fairly new squads who are keeping the St. Paul tradition of hard work and excellence.

A Summary

A Royal Wedding

After years of anticipation by Britains, the world's most eligible bachelor was married. Prince Charles of Wales wed Lady Diana Spencer on July 29, 1981. What has been called the wedding of the century took place in St. Paul's Cathedral in London and was seen by millions of television viewers and by those who lined the streets. Three months later, it was announced that England's future queen was with child.

U.S. VS. LIBYA

In August 1981, U.S. F-14s gunned down two Libyan jets after being fired upon. Before the year was over, Libya's Col. Moammar Khadafy reportedly sent a hit squad after President Reagan and other officials. No assassinations ever took place.

TROUBLE IN POLAND

The fight for freedom continued throughout the world. The biggest crisis in this battle was the imposition of martial law in Poland in an attempt to squelch the growing freedom movement known as Solidarity. Early in 1981, the Polish people were given many privileges. The Solidarity movement flourished throughout the country, as leader Lech Walesa led his people in their struggle for rights. Early in December, Lech Walesa was placed under house arrest near Warsaw, and the martial law was put into effect. As time went on, it was obvious that the Poles wouldn't give up and Walesa was picked "Man of the Year" by Time magazine.

ASSASSINATION ATTEMPTS

On March 30, 1981, Ronald Reagan was the victim of a would-be assassin's bullet. John Hinkley, Jr., an admirer of actress Jodie Foster, hoped to gain her love with this historic deed. Unfortunately the insanity didn't stop there. Six weeks later, Pope John Paul II was shot by Mehmet Ali Agca, a Turkish criminal, as he was holding a mass audience in St. Peter's Square. Then, in October, the President of Egypt, Anwar Sadat, was assassinated along with seven others by anti-Westernization rebels.

DOZIER IS KIDNAPPED AND RESCUED

U.S. Brig. Gen. James Dozier was abducted from his Verona, Italy apartment of Dec 17, 1981. Held by Italy's Red Brigade Terrorists, he was finally rescued, unharmed, on Jan. 28, 1982, 42 days later.

NATION

Reagan Picks First Woman U.S. Justice

After decades of restriction to men, the United States Supreme Court opened up its doors to its first woman justice—Sandra Day O'Connor. Coming from Phoenix, where she served as an appellate judge, Sandra Day O'Connor seemed the ideal Reagan choice. Though protested by pro-life forces for her ideas on abortion, her appointment seemed to please everyone else, including her fellow male justices.

Cube Fever

Claimed to be "a game, a teaching aid, a sport and a piece of art" by its inventor, Erno Rubik, the Rubik's Cube hit the market with a bang. It's curious that a puzzle in which colored sides are matched up would be a success, but without a doubt, it was.

BUDGET CUTS

The Reagan Administration enacted several historic tax and budget cuts in its first year. Many people were affected by the cuts. Students were especially affected as financial aid requirements were made more strict.

STRIKE

In violation of federal law, U.S. air traffic controllers walked off the job and went on strike. President Reagan quickly acted on his power and fired everyone involved. The workers were replaced with newly trained and military controllers.

COLUMBIA MAKES TWO PERFECT TRIPS

A great feeling of pride swept across the United States as the world witnessed two successful launches and landings of the first reusable spacecraft. The success of the space shuttle opened the door to future space travel in private and commercial areas. To quote Robert Crippen, co-pilot on the Columbia's maiden flight there "ain't no way you can describe it." Though the spacecraft was hindered by minor problems, NASA plans on many more successful missions.

January Plane Crashes Kill Eighty People

Two plane crashes in January 1982 proved quite disastrous as approximately 80 passengers and crew were killed. The first occurred when an Air Florida jet crashed into the Potomac River in Washington, D.C. after becoming icy in inclement weather. The second occurred within two weeks when a World Airways jet hurtled across the runway into Boston Harbor.

Harsh Winter Kills 100's

An unusually rough winter swept across the face of our nation as 1981 ended and 1982 began. Every corner of the country was hit causing bad blizzards in the Midwest and East, rain and floods in California, and millions of dollars in damage to the Florida citrus crop.

MEDFLY ATTACKS

In February 1981 California first noticed the attack of the Mediterranean Fruit Fly. This menacing pest gobbled up part of the state's citrus industry before Governor Jerry Brown called for aerial spraying, over much of California.

Strike

On June 13, just a week after school closed for the summer, major league baseball players began a 50 day strike. For some time there was speculation that there wouldn't be a 1981 season. Ball players wanted higher wages and new terms added to their contracts. Finally negotiations were settled and the season continued.

STATE

SWORDSMEN WIN C.I.F.

For the third time in St. Paul High's history, the football team became C.I.F. champs. The outstanding season was also record-setting. (Details, Sports pg. 140)

DODGERS WIN THE SERIES

With a fantastic new pitcher from Mexico, the Dodgers made it to the World Series matched against the Yankees. At first it looked bleak as the Dodgers fell behind but the comeback was terrific and the Dodgers went on to win the World Series Championship with a gutsy win in Game 3 by Fernando Valenzuela.

Diablo Canyon Opens And Closes Again

The controversial Diablo Canyon Nuclear power plant began operating in September of 1981. The plant was the sight of a continuing massive protest by antinuclear demonstrators. More that 1900 people were arrested, including rock star Jackson Brown. Before 1982 was here, the plant was closed due to many different design flaws.

Ancich Calls It Quits

Northern Arizona State University will serve as the new home of St. Paul's football coach of 18 years, Marijon Ancich. He couldn't have picked a better year to leave, when his team finished the best season in our history.

Leonard Vs. Hearns

September was the month for the richest prize fight of all time - Sugar Ray Leonard verses Thomas Hearns. Thousands watched the fight which was televised on Cable T.V. and their screams and cheers could be heard throughout every neighborhood. It didn't seem too difficult a task as Sugar Ray defeated Hearns with a TKO.

DRUNK DRIVING LAWS ARE STIFFENED

January 1, 1982 marked the implementation of many new laws for California. Among these were tougher drunk driving laws. The books now call for mandatory jail sentence, license suspension, and a large fine.

Screaming,

Try to imagine yourself in a small gym which is about to explode because there are so many people inside. You are sitting in a seat, standing up, or sitting on the bleachers. The people around you are acting extremely bizarre, screaming, clapping, whistling, and doing cheers. They even stand on the top of their seats just to see some guys with no hair come in.

Don't be frightened, it's only a description of an average St. Paul rally. You may think it is strange, but it's actually a lot of fun.

Rallies were held before important games and their purpose was to promote spirit and unity in the school by getting everyone involved in a fun way.

When a few students were asked why they enjoyed rallies their response was, "It's a nice way to end a hectic week."

Our victorious football team makes its grand entrance during one of our many rallies.

The squads entertain us by doing skits or performing routines.

One of the most enjoyable rallies was when a student from every class was able to throw a pie at a teacher's face; among these teachers were Mr. Dineen and Mr. Cendejas.

We've Got Spirit! We've Got Pride!

St. Paul's spirit was once again put to the test during Spirit Week. Everyday of the week had a different activity or event scheduled, and certain clothing and accessories could be worn on certain days. Some things worn included specific colors for each class; Freshmen wore pink, Sophomores wore yellow, Juniors wore purple, and Seniors wore red. Some Seniors even went to the extent of coloring their hair red.

Contests were held at lunch and anyone could participate. Some of the contests were guessing the amount of jelly beans in a jar, and the weight of a pumpkin. There were also team contests such as the ice block race, whip cream and donut eating contests.

The winners of Spirit Week were announced during the Homecoming Rally. Seniors took first place, Juniors took second place, Sophomores took third place, and Freshmen took fourth place.

St. Paul

Jennifer Ferrara and Jeff Gentile were two of the many marchers who enjoyed the bonfires and food at the end of the walk.

As the map shows, people traveled through several cities and saw the change in social backgrounds.

Students Walk Out Hunger

One of the activities which the St. Paul students have been participating in for the last eight years has been the March For Hunger. The purpose of the project has been to raise money for the poor on Skid Row. The March began at Salazar Park in East L.A. It then proceeded through downtown L.A., up through Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Westwood, all of Santa Monica and ended at the Santa Monica Beach. A celebration with a blazing fire and plenty of food greeted everyone as they arrived at the beach. Mr. Jiru, coordinator of the March, stated, "This is an exhausting but fulfilling experience. It is a walk through some of the poorest and wealthiest neighborhoods in the L.A. area. St. Paul students are offered a chance to do this in one day while at the same time contribute toward helping to alleviate the hunger of the poor."

Mrs. Walker, Mr. Cendejas, and Mrs. Infante prove that the people at St. Paul are truly a family by participating in the March For Hunger.

Danny Cox relaxes and regains his strength after the long strenuous march.

Freshmen show their enthusiasm as they support the worthy cause behind the March For Hunger.

The march has always begun with a special Mass, since it is traditionally held on Dec. 8th, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception.

A Day To Remember

Each ring was displayed on a table in the front of the gym. Anxiety surfaced as the rings could be seen but not yet worn.

The Junior Ring Ceremony is one of St. Paul's oldest traditions. Each year, a new Junior Class experiences the thrill of receiving their rings. On Nov. 5, 1981, the Class of '83, dressed in their best attire, attended the ceremony held in the gym during 6th and 7th periods.

Father Carroll presided over the ceremony with the help of Junior Class President, Cheryl Carrillo. After the ceremony, the students began a tradition long associated with the ring. Tradition tells us that students have their rings turned by friends the number of times that represents the year of graduation. A special someone is asked to turn the ring the last time since one is supposed to receive a kiss with the final turn.

St. Paul's school ring is trimmed with many symbols. These include the school crest, our mascot, Sammy Swordsmen, the year of graduation, and a brilliant blue stone. Each ring may also be personalized with either the owner's name or his initials.

The day marked the initiation of the whole class into the ranks of upperclassmen, and although all Juniors were not able to receive rings for various reasons, it was a special and joyous day for the Class of '83.

Participation Is The Key Word

"I just couldn't do my homework. Honest. I had to stay after school for practice and by the time I got home..." You probably heard this said many times by classmates or maybe you even said it yourself. With all the activities it was sometimes hard to squeeze in all your homework.

Students had a chance to become involved in any number of things, but all of them took time—sometimes too much time. The important thing was to participate in something you really enjoyed. These may have included staying till 6:00 at night on a holiday for a yearbook deadline, practicing all night for hi-jinx try-outs the next day, being at school all year round learning cheers and perfecting routines, bowling, fishing, playing racquetball or tennis after school, going on retreats, participating in the food drive, toy drive, or the March for Hunger, attending sports events, school plays and musicals, setting up dances and much more. Whatever activities you were involved in, you were given the opportunity to interact with others which is an important part of life.

One of the activities St. Paul proudly participates in is the annual Toy Drive. Every student is asked to donate a toy for the kids on Skid Row.

La Mirada Civic Theatre echoed with the sounds of the performing groups at the Christmas Concert. Thanks to Mr. Clark and Mrs. Johal, the event was a success.

At the Quiz Bowl, Nadine Perkins, Danny Cox, Laura Lorona and Ann Chervenak are all stumped as to what the difference is between an English sonnet and an Italian sonnet, excluding the rhyme scheme. The correct answer was to explain the different structures of the respective stanzas.

Making School Life More

Interesting

Many students found themselves involved in extra-curricular activities mainly because they needed something more than homework to round out their lives. The clubs on campus involved activities that ranged from fishing to singing. Club meetings were held at break, lunch, and after school so that plans for fundraisers and events could be discussed. The Spanish Club spent the money they saved to finance their trip to Mexico and the Future Moguls of America spent their earnings so they could enjoy popular movies and concerts. The Parents' and Booster Clubs kept parents involved in school activities, while the Two-Edged Sword and Lumen staffs reported on the events that shaped our lives. One other tradition was broken with the male novelty group performing at the Annual Hi-Jinx Show. Anyone who got involved made new friends and explored new facets of life.

We All Are #1

St. Paul High did it again! We became C.I.F. Football Champs. The football team worked long and hard for that final victory. But, there were many other people who stayed in the background and encouraged the team, helping them gain the championship title. These people should be remembered, too.

The ever-present mothers cooked dinner before every game, gave players "Big A" patches, a flowered wreath, and baked them cakes. The Pep Squad experienced the victory in a special way as well. They were the ones who organized rallies, spent long hours painting signs and practicing routines and cheers so they could encourage players during the games. Students showed their loyalty by going to every game.

Feelings of pride and the spirit of victory were shared by parents, coaches, faculty members and the student body, but were felt most strongly by the players themselves. The enthusiasm, support and effort needed to reach this goal made it a united effort. When our last and most important victory was won, our St. Paul Family celebrated together with a party in the gym.

With only forty-four seconds to go of the C.I.F. championship game, people had already begun to go on to the field to join in the wild hysteria which followed the game.

A tremendous contributing factor to our team's winning season was the spirit of our faculty and students. Here is a cake which the faculty had made for the players.

As students strolled into school on the day of the big game, they were met with posters and streamers which stirred the emotions of the students as they realized the importance of the game that night.

At the C.I.F. game, the drill team, along with every St. Paul fan, supported the team to their fullest.

Victorious coach of the year, Marijon Ancich celebrates with the team for the last time.

What We Like Best

Once again, the St. Paul student body was polled, and once again here are the results. The top three responses for each category are listed. Categories ranged from favorite singer and song to favorite restaurant and food. Some answers were similar to those from last year, some were identical, and yet some show how quickly change seems to occur. In twenty years, when things have changed even more, and we pull out the ol' 1982 Lumen, we can look back and reminisce about our "high school favorites."

With forty-five minutes to eat lunch, many students find time to do homework as well. Lorenzo Landin studies intently after finishing his lunch.

Mario Irizarry, Ted Lawrence, and Jim Magdaleno spend their extra 15 minutes of lunch outside the gym, where crowded benches force some people to stand.

When the two lunches were combined there were not enough tables in the senior quad to accomodate everyone. Now there are two quads at either end of the lunch area.

Even five minutes before the bell, the continual lines never seem to go away.

Lunch Is A Change For All

When word reached people about the possibility of having one lunch period reactions varied. Many anticipated the long lunch lines and crowded sitting areas while others thought of the chance to talk to all their friends at the same time. Some people didn't know whether they'd like it or not, but were willing to give it a try. Others were definitely opposed. Some didn't care, as long as they could eat lunch, why worry?

The first few weeks of school were hot, making the long lunch lines almost unbearable. There were many articles written in the newspaper about the big change and people openly voiced their opinions on the matter. There was talk of shortening the lunch a few minutes since some found forty-five minutes too long. There was also speculation on selling the packaged food somewhere else on campus to shorten the long lines. The sitting areas were crowded as had been expected, but the seniors were given a second quad and people were allowed to sit on the planters and ground in between buildings. At times, when it took fifteen to twenty minutes to buy lunch or when the heat became so uncomfortable due to a lack of shade, memories of the way things used to be came back into our minds.

As the school year progressed we adjusted to the longer lunch and most of us didn't give the change any thought. The one lunch did give teachers and students a chance to rest and do homework. Many club meetings were held at this time and some people played football and basketball. As to whether the one lunch period will remain part of the schedule is up to the administration. It doesn't matter, as long as we greet change with an open mind it can always work for us and not against us.

One of the new privileges was being able to enjoy the basketball courts.

PEOPLE

What is a family? A family is a group in which we are able to grow as individuals through others' help, care, and love. Our family here consisted of friends, teachers, administrators and school helpers. Each person played an active role in the shaping of our lives. To the administrators who guided our lives, the teachers who shared their knowledge, the people who served us and those who cleaned our school grounds, to our friends who were always there during good times and bad times, we are grateful for many memories that are embedded in our thoughts forever. Even though four years is a short time, the knowledge we have gained from our family will last a lifetime. To all the people who gave us strength and to our parents who put us on this earth we say "Thank You".

CELEBRATING OUR FAMILY

*Latie - Thank you for;
a smile early each morning;
a kind word when I
most needed it;
attentiveness in class;
a genuine interest in life;
a willingness to grow
and learn;
enthusiasm for life; and just being you.

Time Flies When You're Having Fun!!

Senior class moderator, Mr. Cendejas, proves that cafeteria food doesn't out-rank a Carl's lunch.

Dear Seniors of 1982,

It is with a deep sense of pride that I offer you my congratulations on the eve of your graduation. You have been an outstanding class that has brought honor and glory to your Alma Mater. It has been a great pleasure to have been associated with you and to have watched you grow these past four years. For all you have contributed to the life of St. Paul High School, we thank you most sincerely.

As you leave us, we invoke God's blessing on every one of you. May He grant success to your endeavors. May He bring His peace into your hearts. May His Blessed Mother be a mother to you. May His holy angels guard you lest you strike your foot against a stone.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Father Aidan M. Carroll

Senior ASB Hits Big Time!

Another year of Senior ASB Officers have come and gone. This year's officers were eager to start this new (and last!) year with lots of ideas. Guided by Mr. Cendejas, they were responsible for the Christmas dance, and the selling of Senior mugs and grams. But, what stands out in these officers' minds is the Homecoming game. Being the 25th Anniversary of St. Paul High School, there was the need for a special way to celebrate. That's right, the Homecoming half-time was sponsored by the Seniors, and proved to be memorable to all. Thank you Senior Officers!!

Graduation: June 6, 1982, Msgr. Cranham Stadium...

So ends another senior year for another senior class. The Class of '82 was the 22nd class to receive their diplomas and complete their studies here at St. Paul. Mixed emotions, ranging from uncontrollable joy to sadness were evident. A few of the comments made went as follows: Carmen Gomez: "I really enjoyed school, though it was often hard. I'm happy about graduation though." Marcie Jaramillo: "I don't want to go. I'll cry!" Christie Gonzales: "I'm scared!"

The year went fast. It began in the summer when seniors had to have their portraits taken. The months continued with some new senior privileges, the "82" picture, Homecoming, parties, applications to college, Girls League, scholarships, vacations, prom, finals, graduation, and more parties. So went the year 1981-1982.

Moving into the new world: June 7, 1982.

One, Two . . . Seniors, We Rule!

Sheila McWeeney gives the photographer her biggest, widest "Pepso-dent smile!"

Is Senior Year All It's Cracked Up To Be?

Debbie Heller: "Yes, I'm having a good time."

Therese Swirbul: "Yes, because our football team won the championship."

Jim Young: "No, because you get Senioritis; you start flunking math, chemistry, English, etc."

Kelly Roberts: "No, we don't have enough privileges."

Kim Lasken: "Yes, because you're the big honcho and can tell everyone what to do."

Cheryl Van Holland: "No, because you want to graduate more than you want to stay and have fun."

Best All Around: Lisa Diaz and Xavier Espino.

Pattie Papac sits on a table trying to get her homework done before she goes home.

Debbie Truschel hungrily takes the orange slice offered to her during lunch.

Head Honchos . . .

So you finally made it! The top of the totem pole and you loved it. Until final exams you partied and had fun. Now, on the eve of your graduation, are you really happy and ready to go on? Four more years of college and a lifetime job entail a lot of responsibility and work. You've heard about how tough the "big world" can get and you're wondering, "Will it be the same for me?" It will be hard, of course, but remember you're part of the Class of '82 and have a lot of ambition and determination to back you up in whatever you do. Enjoy all that life has to offer, and make the best that you can out of it.

Best Looking: Sharon Klemens and Alan Stankiewicz.

Most Athletic: Peggy Gutierrez and Andy Stankiewicz.

Scott Lee looks perplexed over drawings in Brother Marius' drafting class.

Best Personality: Sheila McWeeney and Jose Olmedo.

And Outstanding Qualities

Kathy Lyons and Pattie Papac lend attentive ears as Julie Montejano tells her sob story.

Most Spirited: Charlotte Medina and Jim Young

Most Likely To Succeed: Ann Chervenak and Jim Young

Class Couple: Kathy McGovern and Mike Spradlin.

Ruben Segura panics when he realizes the pot that was dropped was his.

Martha Melendez tells Jenny Marfice and friend how glad she is that Friday is finally here!

The 1981-'82 Junior ASB Officers were Dar Wiedeman, John Accornero, Suzanne Poteete, Adriana Estrada, and Cheryl Carrillo.

Cheryl, the Junior President, enjoys softball, dancing, and sewing. This was her first year in ASB. Dar, class Treasurer, likes to make rugs and work on her car. She says, "If you can't please everybody, try to please yourself." Suzanne was a Representative. Her hobbies include playing racquetball and riding horses. Adriana, also a Representative, likes to swim and read, and says people should "dare to be different." John, the third and final Representative, enjoys gardening and collecting seashells. He wants to study medicine at UCLA and become a lab technician in the future.

The Saint Paul Zone

Tim had always attended a public school. When Tony asked Tim to visit his school, he readily accepted. He never suspected he would be entering another time and dimension... The Saint Paul Zone.

On a dark January morning, Tim came to visit St. Paul High. As he got out of the car, he noticed some girls in odd costumes. Figuring it was "Punk Rock Day", he ignored the sight and followed Tony into school. He soon noticed boys with very short hair. Was this, too, for "Punk Rock Day"? It seemed a bit extreme. Was the whole school made up of Catholic punkers? It was highly unlikely.

Finally, he asked Tony why they all looked so strange. Tony said, "What? Oh—the girls' uniforms and the football players' hair. Well, that's not strange, that's Saint Paul." Tim looked around again, thought for a moment, then ran for his life.

Moving Up A Bit

Everyone who experiences his Junior year thinks differently about it. For some, Junior year begins their first year of freedom: being able to date and drive. Others think of it as a year of excitement: receiving their class rings, going to the prom, or being on a varsity team. And, of course, most students enjoy the increase of power:

"I like being a Junior because that means I only have one more year to go."

Terry Lopez

"Driving my own car to school! No more stuffy car pools!"

Lisa Fink

"I couldn't stand being an underclassman again."

Mark Le Doux

"We get our class ring... finally!"

Ofelia Vargas

"I don't get lost anymore, and I've finally learned my locker combination."

Juniors Are On The Way Up

Can you remember back to the first grade, the year in which you realized there were other grades beside your own? At recess in those years the seventh and eighth graders played warball, football, and kickball, three very rough games. You concluded they were mean people. The teachers would not even let you on the same playground with them! You wondered if you would be like that when you became a seventh or eighth grader.

Before you knew it you were in the seventh grade and you did not feel any different. There was no magic change that made you feel older and more mature. Why not?

As a freshmen you faced some of the same questions. You were at the bottom of the ladder climbing up again. The upperclassmen were so intimidating. Maybe it was because they seemed so big and tall or because they seemed mature. Nevertheless, there were clearly many rungs of the ladder between you and them.

Now we are Juniors and near the end of our high school climb. We realize now that there is not a miraculous change from youth to maturity like we expected there would be. Slowly, and so gradually that we did not realize it had happened, we became those people we long ago admired.

What Will It Be Like?

As the door to our Junior year closes, we found ourselves looking forward to a new experience — Senior year. From our viewpoint, Senior year seemed to be one of ease, in which our most difficult decision would be whom we should throw out of the Senior lunch line. Every year, the Seniors appear to be having the best time in their St. Paul lives.

We may find, however, that Senior year is not all it seems to be. Many of us will be taking the most difficult courses that we have had yet, and some students will be working, which will make life hectic. We will also need to make important decisions concerning colleges.

Nevertheless, as the Senior class, we will have special privileges and an opportunity to affect the school. The class of '83 will strive to be remembered as the best. With the talent we displayed this year, our dream is sure to become a reality.

A look of concern appears on Dave Lins' face. Could he be worried about being caught in Senior Quad?

Friends And Family

Juniors received many new privileges as upperclassmen. They will receive even more as seniors. But do these privileges affect their opinion of the school? Do juniors like school more than they used to? Here are a few opinions:

Destined To Be A Superior Class

For many Juniors this was a very busy year. Nevertheless, we came through it with a lot of spirit and class. We got things done and kept our grades up at the same time. We are, therefore, destined to be one of the best senior classes ever!

But now that school is out for the summer, we can sit back and relax for awhile, let our minds unwind, and enjoy ourselves. Take it easy "Class of '83" because we have to come back even stronger next year to show everyone that, indeed, we are the best.

Taking up the burden of new and more challenging activities, the Sophomore Class Officers have really given their class a lift. Pictured here are Cynthia Alvarado, Rep., Cynthia Zapato, Rep., Jennifer Ferrara, Rep., Sandy Herrera, Pres., and Tom Ortiz, Sec/ Treas. Jennifer, Sandy, and Cynthia Zapato managed to take a few minutes out of their busy schedules to talk to us. Sandy is on the Cross-Country Team and greatly enjoys helping others through ASB. Cynthia Zapato loves horseback riding, reading, drawing, and listening to music. She also collects stamps. Jennifer Ferrara is very involved in sports. She loves animals, collects dolls, and hopes to one day to be a TV newscaster. The sophomores worked well all year and made the experience an uplifting one for all.

2 years down and 2 to go
The time ticks by so quickly.
And we have so much more to know
We're still underclassmen
Or so they say
And the freshmen go about
In their own merry way.
There's English and Algebra,
Geometry and such.
Why do they make us
Learn so much?
No one pays attention
to us - grade 10.
But of course they hear
From us now and then.
The classes '82, '83, '84, and '85
They're what's keeping
St. Paul alive!
We have football, cheer and flag teams too.
We take charge of Sadie Hawkins and "grams" in the school.
This year we take the NEDT
To test our skills and knowledge and extension of ability.
Next year it's the PSAT.
Where should we go and
What should we be?
Only a few more months
Till we exceed
Then we'll say
1, 2, 3, . . . Junior Victory.

Hi, I'm Lennie the Lightbulb. I live in one of the sophomore English classrooms. I love watching the way you students act when you are bored. You sit there with your heads down on your desks, half asleep, and you girls do your nails. There are always two girls passing notes back and forth. You think the teacher doesn't notice, but then he says, "Please bring that note up here." You just sit there saying, "Who me? What note?"

I enjoy watching the teachers during seventh period. If you students think you are bored, think about your poor teacher. He has already gone over the lecture five times!

Test days are my favorite days. I see your faces when the tests are passed out. The test is six pages long and you've only studied for fifteen minutes. It's hilarious! You tap your feet and scratch your heads while frantically searching for answers.

Just imagine what else I can see from here, and from now on, remember, I'll be watching you.

Happiness is ... finally getting your picture in the yearbook.

This year, the class of '84 astounded the school with a sudden burst of spirit. Their spirit was evidenced by their willingness to participate in spirit week, their enthusiastic cheering at the rallies, and their optimism within the school itself.

One of the Sophomores' most surprising feats was their banner at the spirit week rally. The banner was painted yellow, the Sophomore class color. It read, "Class of 84, We R Sophomores," in huge block letters. The class of '84 used their talents well this year and may prove to be the most creative class yet.

Sophomores Speak Out On Reagan

What do sophomores think of Ronald Reagan? When the question was asked last December, these were some answers:

"I think he is doing more harm than good by cutting back on financial aid for the people in need."

"He should think more about the consequences of the neutron bomb."

"He uses too much money on arms."

"He's doing the best he can but he should be younger."

"Reagan is good because he's strong and he knows what he's doing."

"He doesn't make the right decisions."

"I think he was good in the movies but not as a president."

Sophomore year is finally over. For most of us, it has been a year of hard work and studying, as well as good times. We have used our time and talents well, and have made the Class of '84 something to be proud of.

Next year, as Juniors, we will have more power with which to influence the school. Ring day will establish us as upperclassmen and will bring us closer to the top of the totem pole.

We will be able to take advantage of our new privileges and make a name for ourselves. So watch out, St. Paul! The Class of '84 is looking ahead and lookin' good!

Is Football That Important?

Do sophomores feel that too much emphasis is placed on the football program? When asked what they thought about this situation, they responded:

"I think that some emphasis should be put on it because that's what put us on the map — our good football team. But the way some teachers and students worship the football players is ridiculous."

Julie Reznak

"I think that more emphasis should be placed on the football program. Everything at this school should revolve around it."

Matt Cole

"It's hard to put down something you like, but what about other sports in the school? Too little emphasis has been put on them. How about more? St. Paul has other qualities besides the great football team".

In Defense Of Freshmen

Who knows why prejudice against freshmen ever began? If freshmen are far from perfect, then the other classes in this school aren't much better. While not wanting to insult anyone, it could be pointed out that the second meaning of the word sophomore, according to Webster, is "a know-it-all whose thinking is really immature or foolish." One of the definitions of junior is "a person of lower standing or rank." Seniors really have the best name, but who knows if they deserve it? Maybe if we dropped the stereotypes we could see each other as people — not labels.

Class Of '85 Makes Its Debut

On September 1, 1981, four hundred students from Catholic and public grade schools came to Saint Paul High School for the first time. They made up the Class of '85. Their first days of school were really hectic—running from building to building, and meeting so many new people. Many freshmen were afraid because they didn't know what to expect. But they found it exciting. As the days went on, they began to fit in with the rest of the student body. Of course, the upperclassmen commented about them being "lowly freshmen," forgetting locker combinations, and getting lost between classes. But the freshmen had a good time anyway. They especially liked the pep rallies, football games, and monthly dances. By now the first year is nearly over, and the freshmen face three more years here at St. Paul. Wherever their futures lead them, they will always be known as our Class of '85.

When the freshmen joined the St. Paul family, they also joined the St. Paul lunch lines.

What Is A Freshman?

There are two ways to define "freshman." In the dictionary a freshman is "a student in his/her first year of high school." At St. Paul, if the meaning of the word "freshman" was put down on paper by any of the upperclassmen, it would be stamped "not suitable for people eighteen years or younger due to excessive obscene language."

In actuality, freshmen are treated badly by almost all upperclassmen, who defend themselves by saying they too were treated badly in their freshman year. But if everyone had such a rough time, why can't they all learn from the experience and lighten the load for freshmen?

It is best to consider freshman year as an initiation into St. Paul; a school which is definitely worth the effort it takes to be a part of. All in all, the things we put up with are well worth it.

Freshmen Share Excitement As They Get Involved

It was 11:30 p.m., August 31, 1981. St. Paul High School was desolate; it nervously waited to greet the new freshmen who would have orientation the following day. Two soft lonely voices broke the silence, unable to sleep.

"I can't believe I am going to be twenty-three tomorrow," said one nicknamed Gary the Garbage Collector. "Maybe this year I will get to know one of our new freshmen."

"Well, I hope my new owner is a guy. They don't make such a big deal out of birthdays," said Stella Storage.

"Yes, but this year it is different. Because of our face lifts the students won't be able to scotch tape those ridiculous signs on our faces," said Gary.

"I agree," responded Stella, "but don't be so hard on the students. They don't realize we have feelings. You must admit it is exciting to meet someone new every year."

"Well, I do know that it is pretty interesting to see what they collect and hang, whether they do their homework and what they eat for lunch. But I hate it when they bring tuna fish. Oh, how that smells! I just hope that this year's Freshmen class has a lot of people with last names starting with W, X, Y, or Z. It gets so lonely here at the end of the hall," said Gary.

"I hope that you get to know a freshmen this year, Gary," answered Stella.

Gary and Stella fell asleep with dreams of getting nice freshmen who would not mistreat them. Gary was able to share himself with someone and he and Stella enjoyed their twenty-third birthday.

Sis' Makes Life Easier

The Big Sister-Little Sister Program is an old tradition at St. Paul. The program is designed to help freshmen girls join the mainstream of our student body. Since high school is a completely different experience than anything that has come before, it is often difficult for freshmen to adjust to the changes. Therefore, each freshman girl is given a senior "big sister" who makes things a little easier, giving the freshman advice or help whenever possible.

This year the tradition continued. Even before the school year began, a picnic was held at La Mirada Regional Park. It was a chance for all the girls to get together and have fun. It was also a time for making new and lasting friendships and becoming involved in the school family.

A Change Of Pace

Freshman year was a memorable year for many of us because it was a change of pace. Since conditions were different than those in our grade school years, unexpected things often happened. Some freshmen expressed their thoughts on the differences between their expectations of high school and what they actually found.

Barbara Nahas said, "I didn't think I could meet and get to know as many interesting people as I did in so short a time!"

"It's more of a challenge than I thought it would be," said Leslie Banks.

"It's different than my last school. Here, you have more opportunities to learn. You also get to meet and make friends with a lot of new people," remarked Ruth Carlin.

One of the ways the Freshmen Class shows its spirit is by participating in cheers and yells at the football games.

What Does The Future Hold?

Many freshmen congregate outside the 100 building during lunch.

No one can grow without first having goals; the freshmen were no exception. In January, we asked several freshmen what they wanted to be doing 10 years from now.

Monica Tourville said she would like to be studying medicine, and to be married.

Gilbert Castillo hopes to be a doctor.

Francine Limon said she hopes to be married to Sting of the New Wave group, The Police. She wants to live in Laguna Hills.

The future may hold a rich boyfriend for Antonella Underhill, who hopes for a blond, blue eyed surfer.

She also dreams of being an executive secretary in a Beverly Hills office.

Frank Martinez wants to be either studying medicine or acting.

Alec Cox wants to be a bachelor. He'll also be a computer technician, and, on the weekends, he'll be playing football.

Whatever their hopes were, it is likely that the future will lead them into directions they had never dreamed of. Then years from now, it will be interesting to see how much success they have had in achieving their goals.

Administrating

Fr. Aidan Carroll
Principal

Students think of administrators as people who sit behind desks all day. In actuality, our administrators, in running our school, have many responsibilities. They handle school budgets, class scheduling, registration matters, and decisions regarding school improvement. They also work with community officials in dealing with public affairs. A few administrators even teach classes. This keeps them in contact with students and allows a chance for better communication between administrators, students, and other faculty members.

As we can see, being an administrator is a difficult job, but St. Paul's administrators always manage to be on top.

East To West, S.P.'s The Best

This past year, Miss Andrea Pirraglia joined the St. Paul faculty in the English Department. Due to an "undying curiosity for what life was like on the West Coast," Miss Pirraglia left all her friends and family in New York to come to California. Here she attended USC, and worked toward her goal — a Master's Degree in Instructional Technology.

According to Miss Pirraglia, life in California runs at a much slower pace than in New York. "If you can make it in New York," she stated, "you can make it anywhere!" Miss Pirraglia respects the fact that Californians are so willing to meet and help total strangers. "They have a good sense of hospitality here!" she exclaimed.

Miss Pirraglia's courage in leaving her home and her security is an inspiration to us to become more independent and reach for our own highest goals.

A major change in the administration this year came when Mr. Mondaca took the job as Dean of Boys. For the past 18 years, Hank Mondaca has been with St. Paul as a science teacher. He has taught physiology, physics, chemistry, and biology, which happens to be his favorite subject.

When asked how he first felt about his new position, Mr. Mondaca replied, "A little skeptical, but I had seen the discipline deteriorating and I knew that I was capable of bringing our boys back to order."

Mr. Mondaca said that the students are much more receptive and eager to learn than they were 18 years ago. "This makes teaching more enjoyable," he exclaims.

Before teaching at St. Paul, Mr. Mondaca worked as a social worker in Los Angeles. He directed gang oriented youths into various activities and hobbies.

To escape the worries of his job, Mr. Mondaca enjoys skiing, swimming, and reading. He belongs to four book clubs and, when he gets the chance, finishes an entire book at one sitting. This past summer he read approximately 500 books on various subjects. The most interesting to him are those centering around historical events.

"Becoming the Dean of Boys did not change my personality," Mr. Mondaca informed us. "I'm not being strict, I'm simply enforcing the rules that have already been made."

We all know that Mr. Mondaca plays an important role in our school, and we should consider ourselves lucky that he is still here!

Dedication Results In Pride

Student attitudes toward teachers varied. We often found ourselves saying "Oh, he is too strict," or "I don't like her at all!" How many of us really took the time to get to know the teacher as a person before establishing our opinions? If we understood that all teachers are individuals who had their good and bad days, we would have thought before we spoke. Many students gave up on their work, but did you ever see a teacher give up? No, because they have a quality that very few people possess — dedication.

The St. Paul teachers not only had the responsibility of passing certain knowledge on to their students, but they had the responsibility of showing us how to live Christian lives. They taught us through words and actions.

We all know that teachers don't get the applause they deserve, but it is time to celebrate the fact that the teachers here at St. Paul are the best all around!

Like many other alumni from St. Paul, Mr. Jim Kubasek returned here to teach. Since his first year, in 1979, Mr. Kubasek has been teaching religion, and has counseled the freshmen and sophomore boys.

Jim Kubasek attended St. Paul from 1966-1970. Here he met his wife, who he has been married to for 8 years. They met in class, went to a Sadie Hawkins Jance, and continued dating, which led to their marriage in 1973. The couple now has one daughter with whom they spend much of their time.

When he is not working, Mr. Kubasek enjoys going to the beach, reading, and fishing and backpacking in the Sierras. Since he comes from a family of 9 children, he looks forward to family gatherings. Because he is studying law, he doesn't get too many opportunities to do the things he enjoys.

Mr. Kubasek values his job here at St. Paul and does not intend to leave until he is admitted into the practice of law. He is a good person, with a remarkable sense of humor, who has added to the St. Paul feeling of pride!

In support of the actual teaching staff, there was a group of twelve who continued their work with little recognition. These people were the kitchen, maintenance, and office workers. The office ladies had many responsibilities, such as, taking messages, handling tuition, and filing records. The maintenance crew were not ordinary custodians because they not only cleaned, but also they trimmed shrubbery, and made St. Paul a more pleasant place for teachers and students. The kitchen staff ran our entire lunch program, preparing the food and ordering the snacks we would enjoy!

All of these workers were blessed with patience, understanding, and caring. They remained dedicated to their jobs throughout the year. We could have never made it without these special people.

SPORTS

Inside everyone there lies a desire to prove to others that we are the best, and to prove to ourselves that we are capable of working towards, and finally reaching a personal goal. There are many places this "spirit of competition" shows up, but a predominate one is sports.

Here at St. Paul, students are encouraged to join any number of the ten sports offered. Whether it be baseball or softball, tennis or golf, all offer a chance to prove one's ability and achieve one's goals. The desire to compete leads us to becoming unique individuals.

Swordsmen Keep Tradition And Aim For A Winning Season

Football plays a very important part here at St. Paul, and everybody looks at it in a different way. These are the answers some varsity players gave when they were asked what it was like to play football at St. Paul.

Larry Guereque: "It's different. It's like an honor. There's no program like it. You learn twice as much as guys from other schools."

Robert Garcia: "You can learn many things from the Wise Man that you can use all through life."

Cliff Heidrich: "It means hard work and dedication. You learn how to get the most from yourself. It's keeping tradition and having admiration for those who started this great winning tradition."

John Donlevy: "Being a Swordsmen is a once in a lifetime thing. It takes many hours of hard work and determination. To wear that sword on your helmet takes a lot of courage and pride. Being a Swordsmen is something that will bring you closer to both your community and yourself because of the tradition and togetherness you experience."

Tony Stagno: "It's an opportunity you don't want to pass up. It's one of the best things that could happen to someone. It's all pride."

Lance Wingert: "Playing ball for a team like St. Paul and under a coach like Ancich, is something that I believe every kid should go through. He doesn't just teach how to win on the field, but how to survive life and its obstacles. It's a great feeling playing for a team when you know everyone and their dog is out there watching the best. I don't think there is anyone that has been associated with St. Paul that can be any prouder than me for playing for a team like this."

Swordsmen Are Superior

Once again, the Varsity Football Team has proved to be a great team, despite the fact that it was the smallest physical team in St. Paul history. Coach Ancich and the other varsity coaches had a very optimistic outlook for the season. Last year, the team won all the pre-season games, and this year was a repeat of it. At the end of the pre-season, the team was 6-0.

The pre-season started off with a 30-14 victory over Redlands with touchdowns by Manuel Juarez, Casey Morales, and Lance Wingert. The Swordsmen went on to win over Burroughs with a score of 25-13. This game was won by the offensive team. Andy Staniewicz made several outstanding plays in the game, and was the top receiver. Defensive leaders in the game were Robert Oviedo, Ruben Segura, Parris DeVine, and Andy DeGrasse. The next pre-season game was against Fountain Valley, who had defeated the Swords-men in the CIF playoffs last year. The team got revenge on the Barons by winning 21-3. The defense and Alex Espinoza played a big part in the win. In the game against Fontana, the Swordsmen had a very close victory of 17-14. The winning field goal was kicked by Hank Mondaca in the last few minutes of the game. The team also had a victory over the Braves who came all the way from Lompoc to face the highly ranked Swordsmen. The score was 21-0. Defense played a big part in keeping Lompoc scoreless. The final pre-season game against Loyola, was won by the Swordsmen 17-14. Touchdowns were made by Robert Oviedo and Andy Staniewicz. Once again, Hank Mondaca won the game with a field goal in the remaining few seconds.

The hopes and efforts of a winning pre-season were carried into the following league games.

Swordsmen Win Angelus League

Andy Stankiewicz and Jose Olmedo, two of the team captains, shake hands with the captains from Mater Dei.

The first league game of the 1981 season was against Mater Dei. St. Paul won 31-24 after being behind 17-0 in the first quarter. Great offensive and defensive plays helped bring the team to victory. The game against Servite was played at Anaheim Stadium. Besides the thrill of playing at the Big A, the Swordsmen also had the thrill of beating Servite 10-6. Lance Wingert scored the touchdown, Hank Mondaca kicked the field goal, and Xavier Espino was the leading rusher with 37 yards on 14 carries. Bishop Montgomery also lost to the Swordsmen with a score of 28-0. St. Paul has 21 first downs during the game and had such control of the game that the second string players were put in. The final league game against Bishop Amat proved to be exciting. When game time was up, the score was tied at 14, but because the game was to determine the Angelus League Champion, the game went into overtime. At the end of 4 overtimes, St. Paul had won 42-35, Andy Staniewicz had set a school record for the most receptions, and Alex Espinoza had set two school records for passing.

After finishing the season with a 10-0 record and the Angelus League title, the Swordsmen went to the Big Five Conference playoffs.

Eisenhower was the first team the Swordsmen faced in the Big Five CIF playoffs. St. Paul won 28-7 with touchdowns by Alex Espinoza and Andy Stankiewicz. Cliff Heidrich, Jeff Pogue, Mike Cruz, Parris DeVine, and Andy DeGrasse only let the Eagles score once. In the second round of the playoffs, the Swordsmen met Fountain Valley and won 14-3. Defensive players once again did a superb job. The two St. Paul touchdowns were made by Lance Wingert and Xavier Espino.

St. Paul went on to challenge the Friars and ended up beating Servite 41-7. The defense was led by Robert Oviedo, Parris DeVine, and Mike Shepherd. Touchdowns were scored by Andy Stankiewicz, Xavier Espino, Mike Shepherd, and John Donlevy. Hank Mondaca and Greg Macias also increased the score by successfully completing several field goals.

The final game in the playoffs was against Colton. St. Paul won 30-9, finishing the season 14-0. Touchdowns in this final game, played at Anaheim Stadium, were made by Andy Stankiewicz, Todd White, and Xavier Espino. Hector Palacios ran for two 2-point conversions, aiding the team in the victory. The Swordsmen win made St. Paul CIF champions.

Todd White tries to escape a Colton opponent.

Manuel Juarez rushes between his opponents in an attempt to gain yardage.

Alex Espinoza, riding on the shoulders of the crowd after the victory over Colton, indicates that St. Paul is number 1.

During the Awards Banquet, Coach Ancich speaks to the crowd.

F-Troop Goes To Combat

After a slow start, the JV Football Team, which was composed of 15 seniors, 26 juniors, and 5 sophomores, became more experienced in playing. Coach Hill said they played better as a team this year than they had in the past. He said the team, also known as F-Troop, was very closely knit and that many trusting and true relationships were made during the season that would last throughout the boys' high school years.

In talking with the players, it was discovered that they think JV football is fun. They liked the chance to play and learn. They said that playing JV football was a good experience that will benefit their future in playing on the varsity team.

The Sophomore Football Team was truly a St. Paul team. Besides the 51 students on the team, the entire coaching staff was composed of St. Paul graduates. Head coach, John Crawley, who has been coaching at St. Paul for 7 years, was a 1973 graduate. Coaches Louie Cruz, Mike Stith, Miguel Pla, and Chris Bryeans all graduated from St. Paul in 1980.

Coach Crawley had a very optimistic outlook on the team. He said they were a good team and played well together. He also felt they had a good chance to be the league champions, and if they continued playing the way they did this season, they would go all the way in CIF when they play Varsity Football.

The Sophomores were a very aggressive team. They worked well together and formed many lasting friendships. Starting the season off with 6 wins and no losses made the team very enthusiastic. The team was lead to victory by 3 great players. Andy Henderson was the top rusher, averaging 150 yards per game. Bill Seals lead the defense with the most tackles, and Dan Pogue, the team's quarterback, added his great passing to the team.

The Freshmen had a very eager team. The team, led by Coaches Lopez, Olmedo, and Cederwall, was very well disciplined. They worked hard and consistently. The strenuous training was new for the freshmen, but they did exceptionally well. They had a successful season, despite the fact that they had never played together. They seemed to be a determined team, and if they keep it up, the Varsity Team in 1984 should be outstanding.

Varsity Team Shows Great Spirit On Court

The Varsity Volleyball Team underwent a big change this season. There were only six returning varsity players to the team. The coaching position was filled by one of the many new additions to the faculty, Mr. Mark Self. He had previously coached at La Mirada High and at Cerritos College.

The team consisted of twelve girls, only five of whom were seniors. On the court, all the girls showed great teamwork and were a remarkable inspiration for each other.

The exceptional skills of Coach Self and the determination of the players got the team off to a good start, winning 4 of the first 5 games. This team should be commended for their great performance throughout the season.

Season Bleak; Individuals Shine

The girls of the Varsity Volleyball Team have always been used to having a female coach, but this year things changed when Mark Self became the coach. Several girls were asked how they felt about having a male coach and this is how they responded.

Tricia Sullivan - "We improved because he disciplined us. He's a good volleyball player, and he knows what he's doing. That's what makes him a good coach."

Tiffany Miller - "This season was a big change from last season. We tried harder at practices; they were more of a challenge and more organized."

Susanne Necoechea - "What a difference. He really made us work hard, and we even improved. I do see hope for the future volleyball team because Mark is an excellent coach. Like they say, 'Men tend to push you more.'"

JV Volleyball Tries Their Hardest

The girls of the JV Volleyball team were really excited about the 1981 season. The team had only two returning players, Captain, Thelma Gandara and Stephanie Labadie. These two veterans along with eleven promising newcomers lead the way to an exciting season.

Once again, Miss Lucy Peterson coached the JV team. She enjoys her work and likes to help prepare the girls for playing Varsity Volleyball. She was quoted as saying, "We consider this year a "building" year for the team."

All in all, through wins and losses, the hard working team had an enjoyable season.

It's A Long Way To The Finish Line

Cross Country running is quite an experience. All runners know the great feeling of coming around, running a faster time, maximizing their potential, and beating the opponent. Runners know the sense of freedom, energy, and vitality that training and racing bring. Whether it's hot or cold, on the road or off the road, morning or night, runners know the thrills (some great, some small) of the Cross Country experience. St. Paul Boys' and Girls' Cross Country Teams ran for the peak experience. They ran for themselves, for their school, and for God. They all improved as the season progressed, and every team they ran against knew they had been in a race.

Larry Banuelos, a very strong Cross Country runner, tries to be the first to finish.

Cross Country is a sport of great stamina and skill. Father Nocita, the St. Paul Cross Country coach, tried to bring these qualities out in the runners. The members of both the boys' and girls' teams practiced long and hard so that they could finish the race and outrun their opponents. They learned self discipline and self confidence during the season.

The teams that St. Paul faced this year were good and competition was tough. This encouraged the runners to give it their all, to train even harder, and to push themselves further so that they could reach the finish line first.

Father Nocita helped team members realize that they were special people and that they could successfully reach their goals if they gave it their best effort.

Natalie Rucinski makes a smashing hit over the net.

The 1981 Tennis Team was enthusiastic and hard working. The team, coached by Larry Dawson, who used to play professionally, met at the Sierra High tennis courts everyday after school to practice for 2 consecutive hours. When asked how tennis affected them, Karen Keh spoke for the team by replying, "Tennis is a part of us."

The Varsity Team consisted of three singles players, Jill Todd, Dina Tank, and Mari Ann Mendoza, and three doubles players, Karen Keh and Stephanie Sanchez, Debby Moreno and Kathy Gonzalez, and Natalie Rucinski and Carmen Gomez.

At the beginning of the year, most of the JV players didn't know how to play tennis, but as the season progressed, their skills improved and they became better players. Some members, like Julie Resnak, Kim Nunez, and Anne Clark took lessons to improve their skills.

It was obvious this year that the young St. Paul Tennis Team strengthened the foundation that was begun last year.

Varsity Basketball Team Leaps Into The New Season

The 1981-82 Swordsmen Basketball Team had three returning players: captain, John Quiroz, Andy Stankiewicz, and Brad Foss. Coach Dinneen said the team had a good starting five, was very quick, and had a good pressing defense.

Michael Dinneen, in his second year coaching at St. Paul, felt that the tough pre-league schedule, playing five of the top twenty teams, was an advantage in preparing for the league games. Coach Dinneen thought this year's league would be very competitive but that our team might qualify for a playoff position if it worked hard enough.

Several players on the Varsity Basketball Team were asked to give their opinions on how they felt about playing basketball and this is how they responded: Brad Foss: "I like the high you get out there on the court. It's great performing before crowds when the game is really tight and making the pressure plays." Brian Clements: "It gets us away from the routine of schoolwork, and I like the excitement of performing before the crowds."

Larry Dominguez: "The intensity and the excitement enhances the game and I really look forward to the SRO crowds."

Coach Dinneen summed up the season by saying, "The guys really worked hard all year and we proved St. Paul could be competitive against some of the top teams in C.I.F."

Swordsmen Improve As The Season Continues

Although game scores did not reflect their spirit, the Boys Varsity Basketball Team certainly considers this an important year of training and competition. The five starting players were Andy Stankiewicz, Ken Ramirez, Brian Clements, Brad Foss, and John Quiroz. Stankiewicz and Quiroz were team captains and along with Brad Foss, were high scorers in most games. The team had a very tough schedule. Among their most difficult competitors were Inglewood, Verbum Dei and St. John Bosco. League competition proved especially difficult. The Varsity Basketball Team gained a great deal of valuable experience from this season, and their team spirit and determination made it a great experience for all.

JV Boys Keep Their Spirits High

After many weeks of tiring practice, the Junior Varsity Basketball Team entered the league games with overwhelming vigor. Throughout the season, the boys felt satisfaction from their wins and proved their sportsmanship through their losses. With the help of Ron Heil and Marty Shade, who strove for perfection in the team, and with everyone's combined efforts, the J. V. Basketball Team made this year one of the best.

Cheryl Van Holland- It's been fun. We give it our best shot. We learn and teach together. Everybody gives and takes. We don't just learn basketball; we learn to communicate. We grow as people.

The only returning players to the team were Cheryl Van Holland and Peggy Gutierrez. Coach Gunningham said that Peggy was the team's generator. No matter what the circumstances, Peggy was always there motivating her teammates to work harder.

Next year Coach Gunningham is expecting to have 12 returning players on the team and feels confident that the 1982-83 season will be very successful.

Varsity Soccer Aims For Its 'Goal'

The 1981-82 Varsity Soccer Team consisted of 14 players. Mr. Joe Chavez joined the team as coach this year. Mr. Chavez presently attends Whittier College. At the beginning of the season, one of the players said that the outlook going into league competition was promising. The team had a good pre-league record of 8-3-1. The mid-fielders were the backbone of the team; on the left was Tim Bockhold, on the right was Ramon Diaz, and in the middle was Danny Bockhold. These three players also were the main scorers. The goalies, Brain Bukosky and John Flores, helped keep their opponents from scoring. The team members' hard work and dedication added to a successful season.

During the soccer season, two players were asked how they felt about soccer here at St. Paul and why they like to play: Danny Bockhold: "Soccer, here at S.P., is a growing sport. It looked very promising this year. We had a good start this season and hope to make playoffs. I like to play soccer because it is a non-stop, action packed sport that anyone can play. You don't have to be big or aggressive and even the smallest person can excel in it. Soccer gets me in great shape and I look forward to playing each day."

Ray Diaz: "Soccer at S.P. has grown tremendously since the first years with Brother Peter to the present with Joe Chavez. The teams have improved over 100%. I like to play soccer because it is a lot of fun. The games are always different so it keeps me interested. Soccer is a lot of hard work, but the fun and excitement usually outweighs the work. I plan to play soccer as long as I can."

Ray Diaz kicks the ball with all of his might toward the Servite goal.

Looking downfield at the defense, Eric Burbidge then passes the ball off to one of his teammates.

Ken Zona powerfully kicks the ball down the field.

The JV Soccer Team began their season by winning the majority of their pre-league games. They looked forward to a very promising season, brought about by Coach Phil Avila. Mr. Avila set up a tough training program to get team members in shape. They prepared for each game with a spirit of determination.

When George Chavez, a JV team member, was asked about his opinion of soccer at St. Paul, he replied, "I am hoping that St. Paul will be known as a soccer oriented school, not just a football school. We need more school participation."

Ed Begany and Oscar Perez rest after a long game against St. John Bosco.

Nelson Almera kicks the ball high above the heads of his opponents.

Ken Zona waits for the ball so he can kick it down- field.

Win Or Lose, Varsity Team Remain Good Sports

Steve Chavez and Mike Cruz practice as usual.

The 1982 Varsity Baseball Team did well this season, despite the fact that only two of last years starters returned. According to Coach Hill, the strength of the team was its pitching staff, although the rest of the players did well too. These players had a lot of pressure on them, but they did well. Congratulations to the team on a job well done.

Mike Aguirre shows his form as he aims for the plate.

Chris Horth's watchful eye follows an outside pitch.

Greg Macias scoops up the ball off the ground.

Team Runs To The Base Of Perfection

As Mr. Aranda watches, Coach Hill gets the batting machine in working condition.

When asked why they liked playing baseball here at St. Paul, two members of the Varsity Baseball team responded as follows:

Mike Cruz: I like playing baseball here at St. Paul because it's an excellent learning situation. We learn not only baseball but discipline too. I've like baseball all my life. I guess it's just a part of me. Here we have a couple of really good coaches who know a lot. I'm sure we'll do just great and I love the program.

Frank Morones: I like baseball because it's been good to me. It's a chance to stretch out, run around, and have some good old American fun. It's also a relaxing sport. I also like Coach Hill who can make it more interesting with his unique way of expressing his feelings.

During practice, Mike Cruz waits for the ball, as Steve Chavez throws another ball back in.

Alex Espinoza shows his style as he warms up.

Brian Clements gets ready to throw the ball across the infield.

Mike Jimenez watches as Casey Morales throws the ball.

John Covarrubias catches the ball as the pitcher warms up.

My Dearest Little Katie,

Before I say anything else I have to say this...
I Love You. You, Katie, have made this year really special. Your sweet, loving disposition always gave me a warm feeling in my heart. I'll always cherish and treasure the love you shared with me. You're now forever a part of me. As I write this, I'm not saying goodbye. Rather, it's just a fond and loving Farewell. Christ's love has brought us together and never will he ^{oops} allow us to be separated. May God keep us together in his love forever ever, binding us no matter how apart we may be. Again...

I Love You Katie,

Daniel Cox

J.V. Team Has Determination

The 1982 J.V. Baseball Team was under the direction of Coach Vince Zapien. Coach Zapien helped unify the team and make it strong. The players worked diligently as they aimed for a competitive season, and their attitudes were good and their sportsmanship outstanding. This team should be recognized for representing our school so well.

Waiting for that perfect pitch is Richard Martinez.

Dan Avila practices his batting form, against the fence.

The Freshmen Baseball Team was a solid, well balanced team. Paul Lopez coached for the first time this year. The team had an excellent pitching staff and was also outstanding in batting. The team was led by Chuck Graham and Dan Heller. The unit looked forward to a successful season.

Girls' Softball:

The 1982 Girl's Softball Team looked very promising at the start of the season. There were ten returning players, as opposed to last year's five returning players. Team members felt this strong base of experienced players would contribute to a successful season. The pitchers, Anna Duda and Felicia Lenzen, appeared to be the teams greatest assets.

Coach Fleckenstein has been coaching softball at St. Paul for four years, and Rudy Garcia, the assistant coach, has been here for three years; Coach Fleck feels that Rudy has been a great help to the team. According to Coach Fleckenstein, softball is one of the school's most competitive sports. She added that, although the team was in a tough league, they were expected to do very well.

Stephanie Labadie bunts the ball as Dena Turrietta reaches out for it.

Colleen Sullivan catches a low ball.

Standing on the base, Dina Turrietta waits for the ball.

It's A Hit

During practice at Sorenson Park, Dani La Fleur prepares herself to catch a pitch.

Stephanie Labadie stands back and relaxes during a tiring practice.

Girls Aim For A Prosperous Season

Felicia Lenzen winds up for the pitch.

Kris Chaves patiently awaits her turn to bat.

Anna Duda tags the base before throwing the ball.

Anna Duda and Cheryl Carrillo were asked how they felt about the softball program here at St. Paul. This is how they responded.

"The softball program at St. Paul takes a lot of hard work and dedication. Each girl contributes her time and energy which are needed to develop a successful team. Under the leadership of our coaches, Miss Fleckenstein and Rudy Garcia, we have improved our skills and knowledge of softball. We are looking forward to a very prosperous season."

Coleen Sullivan throws her hardest.

Coach Fleckenstein strolls across the infield.

Nadine Perkins gets ready for a powerful throw.

During one of the many after school practices, John Chavez improves his skill in running hurdles.

According to Coach Walker, the 1982 Track Team was in better shape than last year. He said, "I have high hopes. With 55 members, we must stay healthy. We believe in quality, not quantity."

The track program is growing. Growth in anything is positive, so our track program is definitely a positive force here at St. Paul.

Easy does it! Ruben Segura and Larry Banuelos demonstrate the fine art of running bleachers.

Since stretching is a very important part of running, Mike Valenzuela takes time out to warm-up.

Ed Begany marches onto the field to show the world exactly how to shot-put.

Kate; Hi! How are you! Well, we've been thru so much and it's all been worth it. I'm so glad we stayed friends thru all that St. Louis B.S!! Well, I sincerely hope that your last 2 years at St. Paul are all you Wonder Woman!!

Girls' Track Team Changes Their Pace

The Girl's Track Team began a new program this year which will surely bring them success in seasons to come. For the first time, the girl and boy track teams trained together, so that the best of each group would push all the others to excel. The girls competed at the same meets as did the boys, but not against them. A new coaching system was worked out as well. Miss Gunningham was coach for all field events, Mr. Vasquez had the responsibility of the sprinters, and Mr. Walker trained the distance runners. All the hard work certainly paid off!

Katrina Cochran and Kris Hanson race each other during seventh period P.E.

Dana Hartel runs as hard as she can to beat her best time.

Sandy Herrera cheers for the runners as she writes down their best times.

Golfers Aim For

Golf demands a great deal of skill, although we think of it as an easy sport which just requires hitting a ball into a hole. Mr. Pool, the 1982 golf coach, taught players the necessary skills. He also taught them to aim for perfection and to finish the match under par. More importantly, he taught the golfers sportsmanship and the spirit of competition. Throughout the season, the golfers had a good time and improved their scores.

John Simon tees off at Industry Hills.

Top Row: John Simon, Bryan Mehring, Bob Lasken, Max Estenger, Rich Jackson, Kevin Noonan, Bottom Row: Jeff Donlevy, Kim Lasken, Mike Cicchese, Jim Engen.

A Hole-In-One

The only girls on the team, Kim Lasken, chips to the green at the match.

Bob Lasken tees off with perfect form on the third hole.

Mr. Pool, the team moderator, listens to all of Bryan Mehrling's problems while Jim Enger stands by.

Max Estenger pitches the ball out from the sand trap.

St. Paul Sports

Shine Through

As the seasons once again came to an end, congratulations were extended to the players, teams, and coaches for their sportsmanship. We were proud of all our Swordsmen teams. Win or lose, their spirits were high and the teams competed with good Christian attitudes. Through good sportsmanship and a spirit of competition, students achieved team goals and realized many personal goals as individuals.

Andy DeGrasse, Cliff Heidrich, Parris DeVine, and Hank Mondaca show team unity.

Anne Fitzgerald pounds the ball over the net.

Varsity Volleyball players, Anne Fitzgerald, Susanne Necoechea, Jeanette Wagner, Peggy Gutierrez, and Felicia Lenzen pose for the photographers.

This sign once again declares that St. Paul was the 1981 Big 5 Champ.

J.V. player, Keith Watkins, shows his style as he aims for the hoop.

Katie you really have a natural talent for the "Horn", if you would practice you could really be a fine player. I wish you luck in band, school and your life. Katie I'm glad

Daring To Be Different

Being part of the yearbook staff takes courage. It takes courage to voice an opinion on the theme or the content of the book. It takes courage to try new ideas, update old ones, and do something different. It takes courage to be responsible.

This year's book took a lot of time and effort, but every editor and member stuck with it and brought forth a quality book. It's true there were many changes, but we must remember that we grow through change.

As we finish the book and turn in the last deadline, we find that we have many people to thank. Their help, quick wit and opinions that kept us going were very much appreciated.

Compiling the events of 1981-1982 into a mere 223 pages seemed an impossible task. We did our best to record another volume of St. Paul's history — a very special year at that, our Silver Anniversary. We express our gratitude to all who cooperated with us and offered their support for our endeavors.

Robert's Studio for Senior portraits, ID pictures, pictures from special events, and other services.

Josten's American Yearbook Company for printing our book.

Mrs. Damiano, Mrs. Beauchamp, and Mrs. Chervenak for typing and moral support.

Senior Class for cooperation and speed in taking the '82 picture.

Mrs. Paredes, Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Turner, and Miss Barron for their encouragement.

The office ladies for lists of names and all other help.

Mr. Aranda for providing names.

Chris Wrona and Cathy Lee for helping with captions and headlines.

Those who bought a book

Parents and family members who encouraged us and helped us.

God for giving us the talent and strength to keep on going.

Paul Silvio and Julie Beauchamp keep busy, as staff members usually do, after school — often till 6 o'clock.

Not everyone likes having their picture taken. This seems to be the message Rebecca Varela wants to get across to photographer Jim Mramor.

P.S. I just wanted to say a little more. You are very lucky you have gotten alot of respect from ~~your~~ your boyfriends. And Glen has a lot of respect for you. I'm mad at Larry so I won't write good things about him today. Caviliers have a lot of respect for you, and I know and hope you won't betray me. Oh, I found out to how to come to St. Paul anymore. (Denise's sister told me) Questions for next year, ① will we have homeroom together? ② to how many classes will we have together ③ will we still be good friends

Remember . . . Then Look Ahead

This has been a year of celebration. Together we have found joy in our lives, our past, and our hopes for the future. As St. Paul's 25th Anniversary year comes to a close, we can all take pride in the part we have played in making this school such an important and positive force in our lives.

In the coming years, our memories of St. Paul will at times be nostalgic. Life as we have known it here will never exist anywhere in quite the same way again. The pressures of the outside world will crowd around us, and the reality of these days will be gone. But we will always have our memories, and these memories will, for the most part, be happy ones, as we recall all those people — friends, teachers, administrators — who have made our entire lives "something to celebrate."

We ask God to bless all these people and to watch over St. Paul High School in the years ahead, so that it can be for others what it has been for us. We wish our Alma Mater success and happiness in its next 25 years.

The next years will hold many changes for these juniors. Hopefully, they and everyone else will accept those changes with enthusiasm.

Friends are not only together when they are side-by-side, even one who is far away . . . is still in our thoughts.

ALMA MATER

Dear Alma Mater, we pledge to thee
Our faith and our loyalty
We'll raise your name to height of fame
And to the world proclaim.
No matter where our paths may lead,
Your light we will always need
Your virtues taught, ideals you've wrought
Will always be our guide.

As we march without fears,
O'er the carpet of the years,
O God, bless dear St. Paul High,
And as the years go by,
Keep us ever good and true,
To your colors white and blue.
Through this life 'mid toil and strife
We'll turn to you for life.

we don't know when to begin, we've suffered enough - so much in band all year long, & just want to forget about band + T.C. But I can't since band's been the biggest thing in my life in high school and I hope it'll be the same thing for you. Now that you've finished your first year of varsity, Band, you know what it's like, the hassles, but mostly the fun. And I know you've had lots of fun. And me too, with both you + Liz in our section. All I can say is that you're a really good friend and a great French Workshop (but I'm biased). I've had lots of fun in our section and in band and you've been a part of it.
Keep it up for me + Gina. Remember, you + Liz are the future for our section and for our band, I know you'll make me proud of you. Thanks for the fun & the memories and good-luck in everything you do (especially band)

Katie,
Hmm, where do I start.
I know, the march for hunger. When we first started to march all together, I was wondering who you were but as the miles piled on I soon found out that you were a pretty nice person. And through "South Pacific" I got to know you even better.
Well, have a nice summer and when we get back next year maybe we'll be in another play together.
Friends always,

Katie,
It's been really great

See you next year.

Dearest Katie,

I hope that this space wasn't reserved for anyone, if it was,

I'm sorry. I wish I could tell you, in person, how I feel about you.

You mean much more to me than just a friend. This year was a very hard one for me, in more than one respect. I hate to say this, but I ran out of time, I'm sorry. Trans again, and I'll see ya' next year. Please K.I.T.

Love always,

John

Katie,

It's been real fun knowing you over the school year. We've become real good friends and talk quiet a bit during our Spanish class in third period. I have nothing much to say expect I hope to see you in summer during band practice. Friends, sorry.

Hi Katie,
Well for your info I would like to say yes, that is a sticker. Did you see the catch Geoff made? Well we finally made it through the year. One thing I will never forget is our 7th period Geometry class. Remember Mrs. Estrada? Geoff and his life story? Yes I thought it was sort of interesting. I am so-o happy I met you. Especially having you in Geometry. (I call it the zoo.) Oh, well I have to sign Kate's book. Have a beachin' (you know what I really mean) summer.
Your friend,

Hi! Well we made it the end of Soph. year. It went by so fast it seems like only yesterday we became best friends. We did so much this year. We had the play and in a few weeks the benifet, we have raquetball/Robbie, Mark, +pacman) we joined a new lunch crowd (no more Lisa) and we have had a lot of fun. But most of all I want to ~~tan~~ thank you for always ~~being~~ being there and helping me every time I was depressed, confused, sad or didn't know how to spell a word. You helped to make made this year very fun for me and with out you I would not have been able to do any thing! I hope we have a lot of classes together next year (at least religion). We have to do a lot of things together this summer, go to the beach, Disneyland, shopping or just getting ~~to~~ together.

Paul: Harry, Duchi, Sufoshi

What I basically want to say is that you are my best friend Katie and I haven't ever been as close to anyone before as I am with you!
